She also indicated that a Redondo group fighting the rabies law is actually paying 10 cents for every name obtained by individuals circulating petitions against the rabies law.

"The money is allocated for this," the chairman of the group allegedly told Mrs. Tillim.

Also speaking briefly was Mrs. Ruth Vaughan of 1724 Juniper ave. who submitted some more letters, graphs and charts for the council's consideration.

The council also heard Mrs. Ruth Smith of 1837 - 8th st., Manhattan Beach whose four sons were undergoing Pasteur treatment.

Signs of Paralysis

The treatment had to be stopped on her 13-year-old son after the ninth shot because the child started showing signs of paralysis.

"My son may still develop rabies ... I only hope none of you will ever have to go through such a period as this when you can't be sure if your child will die or not."

Present at the council meeting was Mrs. Eileen Goetz of 502 Milne dr., Torrance, who has led the campaign locally against the rabies law.

"I didn't come down tonight with the intention to speak," she said. "I just want to say that I didn't pay 10 cents per signature."

Mrs. Tillim's reference was to a Redondo woman. Mrs. Goetz asked that the matter remain on the ballot and that the three councilmen who voted against the law stick by their convictions.

Designed by Torrance City Engineer Ronald W. Bishop, the project has been expedited by Supervisor Hahn through flood control procedures so that work could begin before the rainy season.

He said that it will provide drainage to a large area of North Torrance, including 800 acres surrounding the two sections of the drain.

One section of the huge drain will be built along Arlington from Redondo Beach boulevard to Dominguez channel. The other, along Glenburn from 175th street to the channel.
